Facts of Our Faith

I BELIEVE IN THE HOLY CATHOLIC CHURCH

Paragraph 3. The Church Is One, Holy, Catholic, and Apostolic

III The Church Is Catholic

Mission—a requirement of the Church’s Catholicity

855 The Church’s mission stimulates efforts towards Christian unity. Indeed, “divisions among Christians prevents the Church from realizing in practice the fullness of Catholicity proper to her in those of her sons who, though joined to her in Baptism, are separated from full communion with her. Furthermore, the Church herself finds it more difficult to express in actual life her full catholicity in all its aspects.

856 The missionary task implies a respectful dialogue with those who do not yet accept the Gospel. Believers can profit from this dialogue by learning to appreciate those elements of truth and grace that are found among peoples and which are a secret presence of God. They proclaim the Good News to those who do not know it in order to consolidate, complete, and raise up the truth and the goodness that God has distributed among men and nations and to purify them from error and evil “for the glory of God, the confusion of the demon, and the happiness of man.”

IV The Church is Apostolic

857 The Church is Apostolic because she is founded on the Apostles in three ways: she was and remains built on “the foundation of the Apostles, the witnesses chosen and sent on mission by Christ himself: with the help of the Spirit the Church keeps and passes on the teachings and the words she has heard from the Apostles; she continues to be taught, sanctified, and guided by the apostles until Christ’s return, through their successors in pastoral office: the college of bishops, assisted by priests, in union with the successor of Peter, the Church’s supreme pastor.
