Facts of Our Faith

I BELIEVE IN THE HOLY CATHOLIC CHURCH

Paragraph 4. Christ's Faithful-----
Hierarchy, Laity, Consecrated Life

II THE LAY FAITHFUL
Participation in Christ's kingly office

908 By his obedience unto death, Christ communicated to his disciples the gift of royal freedom, so that they might overcome the reign of sin in themselves. That man is rightly called a king who makes his own body an obedient subject and by governing himself with suitable rigor, refuses to let his passions breed rebellion in his soul, for he exercises a kind of royal power over himself. And because he knows how to rule his own person as king, so too does he sit as its judge. He will not let himself be imprisoned by sin.

909 "Moreover, by uniting their forces let the laity so remedy the institutions and conditions of the world when the later are an inducement to sin, that these may be conformed to the norms of justice, favoring rather than hindering the practice of virtue."

910 " The laity can also feel called, or be in fact called, to cooperate with their pastors in the service of the ecclesial community, for the sake of its growth and life. This can be done through the exercise of different kind of ministries according the grace which the Lord has chosen to bestow on them."

911 In the Church, "lay members of the Christian faithful can cooperate in the exercise of this power of governance in accord with the norm of the law." And so the Church provides for their presence at particular councils, diocesan synods, pastoral councils, the exercise of the pastoral care of a parish, collaboration in financial committees, and participation in ecclesiastical tribunals.
