Facts of Our Faith

I BELIEVE IN THE HOLY CATHOLIC CHURCH

Paragraph 4. Christ's Faithful-----
Hierarchy, Laity, Consecrated Life

II THE LAY FAITHFUL
Participation in Christ's kingly office

912 The faithful should distinguish carefully between the rights and the duties which they have as belonging to the church and those which fall to them as members of the human society. They will strive to unite the two harmoniously remembering that in every temporal affair they are to be guided by a Christian conscience, since no human activity, even of the temporal order, can be withdrawn from God's dominion.

913 Thus every person, through these gifts given to him, is at once the witness and the living instrument of the mission of the Church itself according to the measure of Christ's bestowal.

III. The Consecrated Life

914 The state of life which is constituted by the profession of the evangelical councils, while not entering into the hierarchical structure of the Church, belongs undeniably to her life and holiness.

Evangelical counsels, consecrated life

915 Christ proposes the evangelical counsels, in their great variety, to every disciple. The perfection of charity, to which all the faithful are called entails for those who are freely called, entails for those who freely follow the call to the consecrated life the obligation of practicing chastity in celibacy for the sake of the Kingdom, poverty and obedience. It is the profession of these counsels, within a permanent state of life recognized by the Church, that characterizes the life consecrated to God.

916 The state of the consecrated life is thus one way of experiencing a "more intimate" consecration, rooted in Baptism and dedicated totally to God.
